Promoting English Accessible Health Rights and Support in Israel

Why English Speakers?

Gabe Pransky founded The Shira Pransky Project (SPP) after reflecting on the challenges he and his wife Shira, of blessed memory, faced during her ten year battle with cancer.

Rights, benefits, and support that could have eased their burden considerably all passed by in unfortunate ignorance. Gabe soon realized that their experience was not unique.

English speakers in Israel face a distinct challenge navigating the healthcare system. It makes regular life harder, and it makes times of crisis even more desperate.

In many sectors of Israeli society, English speakers are seen to have advantages. In the health sector, the playing field is even and the system is lacking. SPP fills in the gaps by providing access to necessary information about rights, benefits, services, and support.

SPP in Action!

Supply translations and English program development to Israeli healthcare and support organizations.

Publish information on healthcare rights and support for the English speaking public in Israel.

Provide tools for support personnel to use in educating and assisting patients.

SPP Goals and Objectives

~Provide information in English about healthcare rights and services.

~Assist the AACI klitah staff in providing the best possible healthcare support to those in need.

~Promote understanding of the healthcare system before personal crisis hits.

~Alleviate the strain of personal crisis on medical patients.
